Formation Institute

The Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities (AJCU) is a national organization that represents Jesuit higher education in the USA and Belize among its various constituencies.

They provide a forum for the exchange of information and experiences in Jesuit higher education, and encourage and facilitate collaborative initiatives among its member institutions.

Those initiatives include fostering Jesuit, Catholic identity and mission;

Educating for a faith that does justice;

supporting national, international and online collaborations between campuses;

Sponsoring professional and leadership development programs.
